Case of the issue::

The fixed distal shoe space maintainer, as first reported by Willett (1932), is an appliance employed when there is premature loss of second primary molar prior to the eruption of first permanent molar. The appliance usually is cantilevered from the first primary molar with an extension into the alveolar process to guide the eruption of the first permanent molar into its normal position. In this manner the appliance prevents the severe loss of space and malocclusion that results from the mesial drifting of the first permanent molar during and after eruption.

Suggestive Reading ::

This is the much anticipated fourth novel of Chetan Bhagat. Set up in the backdrop of Varanasi, this is the story of three friends; Gopal, Rhagav and Aarti and their struggle to find love, fame and fight corruption. The novel is based upon the rampant corruption apparent in the Indian youth educational system. As one protagonist gives in to the system, the other fights with it. The story is about their respective fights. Using the oldest city of the world the author sets up the contrast of modern thinking and aspirations of today's system. The author swiftly builds up the rapport with the Indian youth, taking them in the centre. How does the educational system work in the nation and how does the common people and youngsters are involved and taken up by the corruption and become a part of it, is very well portrayed by the author.

KNOWING PEOPLE THROUGH BLOOD GROUPS:

GROUP A: People are perfectionist. Always alert , understand other well outspoken and social in nature. Strong sense of responsibility , win other's TRUST. Optimistic.

Group B: People of considerable action , rarely sit, always make plans. Hate being restricted to dull jobs. Have disregard for authority that makes them great innovators. They have their own way of living. Their character is rich in creative and original ideas.

GROUP O: Innocent in good sense. They can always get away after being impolite because of their innocent looks. Romantic and realistic. Reveal in work and there is hardly they cannot do with their open eyes and alert brains.

GROUP AB: Ultra sensitive and over react emotionally. Success in life often depends on close friends. Can easily adopt themselves and finally get what they want. Often mistaken to be unfriendly and un trustworthy.
